First auction in the renovated Niedersachsenhalle

100 Hanoverian Elite horses up for sale

Verden. The 123rd Elite Auction for Hanoverian riding horses and foals will be held in the Niedersachsenhalle on October 8 and 9, 2010. Approx. 100 Hanoverian horses will be put up for auction. This 123rd Elite Auction will at the same time introduce the newly renovated Niedersachsenhalle. The first stage of construction is completed, and the auction candidates of the Autumn Auction will celebrate the debut in the modernized auction hall.

The auction training of the scopey dressage and show jumping prospects starts on September 22. All auction horses can then be inspected and tested upon prior arrangement with the customer consultants. The official presentation on September 26 will be recorded, and video clips will complement the horse's individual description on the website as of Monday, September 27.

The riding horses and foals were chosen according to tried and tested principles from mid of May until mid of August by the selection committee. Youngsters with high placements achieved at riding horse and jumper ability classes at the Hanoverian Championships, staged on the occasion of the International Dressage and Show Jumping Festival in Verden, qualified for this auction.

But the approved preceding system of a test week, where all auction candidates are invited to come to Verden to check their rideability is not only of interest for professional trainers, but also a good opportunity for ambitious pleasure riders to find a first-class, easy to ride youngster.
