

Careers start in Verden

Hanoverian Stallion Licensing live on the Internet

Verden. The highlight of the Hanoverian breeding year attracts many experts, purchasers and horse enthusiasts: The Stallion Licensing and the Stallion Sales will be held in the Niedersachsenhalle in Verden from October 27 – 29. In the past weeks, the best 100 stallions born in 2009 were chosen from more than 700 candidates to face the judgment of the Licensing Committee which is decisive for their future career as breeding stallion. The Hanoverian Stallion Licensing will be broadcasted live on the Internet under www.hannoveraner.com on Friday, October 28, as of 9.00 am.

“New” and approved bloodline combinations feature the whole breeding range of the Hanoverian breeding area. Desperados and Stakkato present most of the offspring, as both are not only extraordinary sires, but also firmly established names when it comes to international sport. Interesting young stallions like the Federal Champions Benetton Dream and Quaid or Christ and Comte present their first crop of offspring at the Stallion Licensing. It is no secret any more that careers start in Verden in the last week of October.

Callaho’s Benicio by Belissimo M/Velten Third is an impressive example: He was licensed and especially honoured in Verden four years ago. The liver chestnut was sold to South Africa at the Stallion Sales, he returned to Germany for his future training, and he became the celebrated Federal Champion of six-year-old dressage horses under Anna-Sophie Fiebelkorn.

The Stallion Licensing starts on Thursday, October 27, with the first inspection of the stallions on the triangle. Following free running and free jumping on Friday, October 28, the licensing results will be announced. A special moment will be the nomination of the Premium stallions on Friday evening.

Saturday, October 29 will start with the presentation of the stallions on the lunge. The afternoon will be opened with the honour ceremony and detailed information on the premium stallions before the Hanoverian Stallion of the Year 2011 will be announced. The auction of licensed and non-licensed stallions will start at 3.00 pm.
