Riding horses with quality and character

Verden Auction Online in July – riding horses

Verden. On Saturday, 12 July, it will be that time again: The Verden Online Auction will present 43 selected riding horses – 32 talented dressage horses and eleven show jumpers – ready for new challenges in sport or as reliable leisure partners. All auction horses can be test ridden on site in Verden. The first bids can be placed online from 6 July, before the exciting online bid-up starts at 2 p.m. on 12 July.

Several horses from the current collection have already proven themselves in competition. In addition to movement potential and scope, special attention was paid to interior qualities such as rideability, willingness to perform and people-friendliness during the selection process. Whether you are a sporty explorer or someone looking for the perfect leisure horse, this lot includes young horses with excellent movement potential, enormous jumping ability and the best attitude.

The experienced auction team of riders, grooms and customer advisors will competently guide interested parties on their way to finding the right horse. Melanie Kosse, trainer and auction rider, is pictured on the cover of the Verden Online Auction in July, representing the dedicated team. On Saturday, 5 July, the presentation of the dressage and show jumping horses will be broadcast live from 10 a.m. on www.hannoveraner.com. On Saturday, 12 July, interested parties will have the fantastic opportunity to find their ideal partner from the varied selection of promising young talents after a trial ride until 12 noon.
