No rest in Verden

Verden March Auction on March 24, 2018

Verden. The second Hanoverian sales event of the year, the Verden auction in March, will soon be held on Saturday, March 24. 80 riding horses will be offered for sale, complemented by an attractive collection of foals with exquisite pedigrees. The auction will start at 2.00 pm with the Grande-Prize award ceremony before the first bid will be accepted.

The cover hero of this Verden auction, the meanwhile 10-year-old Falsterbo/Forrest xx-son Faustus, started his career at the Verden auction, and he is now successfully competing at the advanced dressage level. His trainer and rider Dorothee Schneider has planned to participate at first international tournaments this year. The gelding was bred by Heino Bruns from Gödenstorf. The 80 futurity prospects offered by the Hannoveraner Verband on March 24 have all options for similar successful future careers. Whether super jumping capabilities, amazing movement or relaxed on forest trails: The Verden auctions provide the perfect horse for all demands.

The collection of foals will be available online with photos and video clips as of March 12. They will be presented to the public on Saturday morning, March 24. The auction horses will arrive in Verden on Monday, March 12 and can be inspected and ridden upon prior arrangement as of Tuesday, March 13. The auction will start on Saturday, March 24, as of 2.00 pm with the Grande-Prize award ceremony. Tickets are available in advance with www.ticketmaster.de or on the spot at Euro 10.
