Bidding duels at a mouse click

Verdener Auction Online

Verden. Between August 28 and September 14, customers and friends of the Hanoverian horse will get the chance to compete in bidding duels at the mouse click for the first time. With the Verden online auction for foals, the Training and Sales Centre of the Hannoveraner Verband offers its breeders and customers another marketing platform for their promising offsprings.

True to the motto "the future begins now", the Hannoveraner Verband will put together a first-class foal collection that buyers from all over the world can conveniently purchase online. The Hanoverian or Rhineland registered foals are presented on the Verden online auction platform www.verdener-auktion-online.com. Beside the general information concerning pedigree, sire and dam line the auction candidates are presented by a meaningful photo and video gallery as well as a veterinary protocol. This offers highest possible transparency to the buyer.

"We look forward to the first Verden online auction", confirms auction manager Jörg-Wilhelm Wegener. With the online auction the Hannoveraner Verband offers its breeders and buyers a modern platform of marketing, works simple like never before and conveniently from home.
